

NOTICE OF PREGNANCY DISCRIMINATION
CLASS ACTION LAWSUIT

Carreon, et al. v. California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR)

Los Angeles County Superior Court Case Number 19STCV09935

A lawsuit has been filed addressing the alleged failure by CDCR to reasonably accommodate pregnant correctional officers. The Los Angeles County Superior Court has certified the case as a class action and defined the class of persons potentially entitled to relief under the lawsuit as follows:

The “Class” consists of all current and former employees employed by CDCR as correctional officers (regardless of rank) or Medical Technical Assistants who either: (a) sought but were denied or (b) were deterred from seeking reasonable accommodation for a pregnancy related disability during the period of March 24, 2018 through May 31, 2020.

In early January 2021, a written notice by United States mail will be sent to individuals identified by CDCR as potential class members. If you believe that you are a member of the class and have not received written notice by the end of January, you should contact the attorneys representing the class:
